Summary

I am a Responsive Design professional, I have a lot of experience manipulating elements making them 100% responsive on all platforms. I am an experienced UI designer & developer for a startup. My interest in programming is driven by my desire for mathematics and problem-solving.

My area of expertise include:

HTML5, SCSS/CSS3, Javascript, React.js, Python

I have experience designing wireframes with Adobe XD, & Photoshop.

I have mastered making websites responsive, from scratch

Writing concise SCSS, creating mixins & variables that are reusable

Research, design thinking, and developing a pitch deck.

I also have 4 years of sales experience, as well as excellent management & communication skills.

I am currently searching for opportunities that will utilize my current knowledge as well as allow me to grow as a professional.
